

“Classic” is a word often used to describe the Holland America Line brand.

And for good reason.

We first set sail from the docks of Rotterdam in 1873 as the Netherlands-
American Steamship Company.

Over the years, Holland America Line has grown to be one of the most respected names in premium cruising.

Our Dutch heritage is still very much alive: in the names of our ships; in our classic style of service; in the precision of our operations; in our mastery of the sea.
